BJP National Executive Committee member Kanna Lakshminarayana skipped the party State executive meeting held at Bhimavaram in West Godavari district on Tuesday, which brought to the disputes between Kanna and party State president Somu Veerajulu to the fore.

Somu Veerajuu sacked eight party districts presidents, who were appointed by Kanna Lakshminarayana, when he was the party State president, without discussing the issue at the party meeting.

Irked by this, Kanna Lakshminarayana alleged that Somu Veerajuu is not coordinating with Jana Sena Party (JSP) chief Pawan Kalyan to take up the combined agitations to fight against the anti-people policies of the YSRCP government. He had already complained to party State in-charge Sunil Deodhar that Somu Veerajaru was meeting Pawan Kalyan alone and discussing the matters.

Veerajaru is not informing the matters discussed with Pawan Kalyan at the party leaders' meeting and taking unilateral decisions,' he alleged.

It's learnt that the party high command warned Kanna Lakshminarayana for criticising the attitude of Somu Veerajaru in the media.

Recently, Kanna Lakshminarayana criticised Somu Veerajaru's relative joining Bharat

Rashtra Samiti (BRS) and extended his support to Pawan Kalyan.

Vexed with the attitude of party leaders, Kanna Lakshminarayana is allegedly planning to quit the party. He may shift his loyalty to TDP or JSP.

Meanwhile, BJP Palnadu district former president Kanna Saida Rao and leader Gandham Koteswara Rao, along with another 120 leaders resigned to their posts at a meeting in Krosuru a few days ago.

Addressing the meeting here on Tuesday, Kanna Saida Rao alleged that they were not invited to the party State executive meeting because they are followers of Kanna Lakshminarayana. He criticised that Somu Veerajulu has pledged the BJP in the State to the YSRCP and increasing his assets. "Veerajulu did not oppose GO No 1 issued by the government." Stating that they have complained against Somu Veerajulu to party State in-charge Sunil Deodhar several times, he wondered why the latter was maintaining silence.

AP Mahila Commission Chairperson Vasireddy Padma stated the importance of girl child is recognised across the world since women are achieving greater heights in all walks of life.

She participated in 16th National Girl Child Day celebrations organised by Rainbow Hospital at Indian Medical Association Hall here on Tuesday. Along with DIG (Communications) NSJ Lakshmi, Dr Uma, Dr PV Durga Ranjani and others, Padma went through the paintings drawn by girl students and presented prizes to the winners.

Padma expressed concern over the backwardness of women and the harassment they are facing at every point of life despite the achievements. She recalled that even women wrestlers and IPS officers are also facing harassment. "The awareness should start from home," she asserted.

Padma said that society should respond seriously to the harassment being faced by girls. It is high time girl children are protected, she said and called upon parents to provide them education and protection since childhood. The chairperson said that the Mahila Commission had forwarded many recommendations to the State government for the protection of girl child. Students of various schools and their parents and the staff of Rainbow Hospitals participated in the programme.
