KRISTU JAYANTI COLLEGE ORGANISES VIDWAT SAMMILAN WITH PROF. BJ RAO

Kristu Jayanti College organised the third edition of Vidwat Sammilan on 'Biology is noisy, Fuzzy but very robust: why and how?', with Prof. BJ Rao - Vice Chancellor, Central University of Hyderabad as the resource person. From thematic sessions to discussions on cross-cutting priorities for transforming education, 'Vidwat Sammilan' is concerned with the presentation of national statements of commitment by institutional leaders in the form of interactive lectures.

Professor Basuthkar Jagadeeshwar Rao who has made fundamental contributions to the molecular basis of genome dynamics, computational biology, cellular physiology and metabolism, said "We are shaped by evolutionary changes which are entirely situational, the nature of which cannot be predicted. Environmental changes occur too fast for the species to adapt."

Asserting the need for a reductionist approach to understanding science, Prof. Rao emphasized that by encompassing ontological, epistemological, and methodological assertions regarding the interrelationships of various scientific areas, we can dissect complex systems into simpler modules. He went on to add that methods based on nonlinearity can be used to solve a variety of fascinating problems in various subfields.

550 students participated in the session that aimed to provide specialised knowledge and harness the power of education to unlock the potential of learners in all their diversity, and to establish just, equal, and inclusive societies.
