

DMK ALLIANCE TO SEEK GUV'S RECALL

DMK pens letter to all its MPs and other parties in Tamil Nadu to send memorandum to President Murmu

S KUMARESAN @ Chennai

UPPING the ante against the Tamil Nadu governor, the ruling DMK and its allies will be approaching the President soon with a memorandum signed by all its MPs demanding the immediate withdrawal of RN Ravi from the post. This comes days after the governor alleged that the TN government had delayed transferring the probe into the Coimbatore blast to the National Investigation Agency.

Former union minister and DMK floor leader in the Lok Sabha TR Baalu has been tasked with getting the signatures of MPs and handing over the memorandum to the President at the earliest. Baalu on Tuesday wrote to all DMK MPs and leaders of alliance parties urging them to sign the document by Thursday, party sources said.

According to sources in the DMK, the memorandum argues for Governor Ravi to be recalled on the ground that he is preventing the elected government from performing its duties by not approving Bills passed by the Assembly.

The memorandum contends that by failing to approve the Bills, the governor has become a hurdle to the State government's efforts to fulfil the demands of the people who voted for the memorandum. Along with the memorandum, the party is attaching the Bills pending with the governor along with explanations on how each Bill will benefit the people.

Baalu will be seeking an appointment with the President once all 49 members have signed and will meet her with a delegation of MPs.

The DMK-led Secular Progressive Alliance, which includes the Congress, both Left parties, IUML, MDMK, KDMK and VCK, has 38 MPs in the Lok Sabha and 12 in the Rajya Sabha. Of the 50 MPs, all but IJK MP Dr TR Paarivendhar from Perambalur, who contested on the DMK symbol but later left the alliance, are expected to sign the memorandum. As on Wednesday, at least 10 MPs had already signed.

"This morning the state (Congress) president KS Alagiri told me to sign the memorandum to ensure the support of our party. Given the gravity of the situation and the governor's activities, this is a genuine demand."

All Congress MPs (eight in Lok Sabha, one in Rajya Sabha) will sign without a second thought," one Lok Sabha MP from the grand old party told TNIE.

Leaders of the Left parties, IUML and VCK also told TNIE that their MPs would sign the document.

Kerala HC bars officers from 'Kodathi Vilakku'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@Kochi

THE Kerala High Court has ordered judicial officers in Thrissur district not to be actively involved in organising 'Kodathi Vilakku', a century-old annual event held at Guruvayur temple, in future.

In the order issued on November 1, Kerala Piravi, the HC said courts cannot be seen engaging in activities that promote a particular religion. It also took exception to the event's name, which translates to 'court lamp'.

'Kodathi Vilakku', like 'SBI Vilakku' and 'Devaswom Employees Vilakku', is among the programmes conducted by various organisations at the temple during Ekadasi.

J Hemalatha, joint registrar of the High Court, issued the order on an instruction from Justice A K Jayasankaran Nambiar, the judge-in-charge of Thrissur district.

"As secular democratic institutions under the Constitution, courts cannot be seen engaging in activities that promote any particular religion. While steps are being explored to prevent the organisers of the event from using the name 'Kodathi Vilakku' in future, judicial officers in Thrissur are advised not to actively involve themselves in organising the event, either by consenting to be a part of the organising committee or in any other manner. They shall also not feel compelled or obligated to attend the event," said the order.

Courtesy call, says Mamata on 30-minute meeting with Stalin

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

@ Chennai

WEST Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday called on her Tamil Nadu counterpart MK Stalin at the latter's residence in Alwarpet here. The meeting lasted about 30 minutes. Both leaders said they did not discuss politics or elections and it was a courtesy call.

Mamata said, "Stalinji is like my brother and it was a courtesy meeting. I came to Chennai because Governor L Ganesan invited me for a family function. But how can I leave Chennai without calling on Stalin? I think it is my duty to meet Stalinji and have a cup of coffee and what is popular in Chennai. We said namaste and vanakkam."

During the meeting, Stalin

presented Mamata a book titled 'Rule of the Commoner' authored by Rajan Kurai Krishnan and two others. In return, she presented him a jar of rasgullas, a sweet famous in West Bengal.

Answering a question, she said, "When two political leaders meet, we can talk about something that may not be political but is in the interest of the people. Maybe something like development. I think development is better than politics." In response to another question, she said, "I won't comment on any political party."

When a scribe said that just like West Bengal, the Tamil Nadu government has issues with the Governor, Mamata said, "We did not discuss that. It is absolutely a personal and courtesy visit. It is about brother and sister relationships. Now you can guess whether it is political, social, or cultural. Everything is up to you."

Answering reporters' queries, Chief Minister MK Stalin said Mamata invited him to Kolkata and he accepted her invitation.

Munugode bypoll: Voters say 'Ye dil mange more'

A SESHACHARYULU @ Nalgonda

A DAY before the residents of Munugode exercised their franchise, in-charges appointed by the political parties were in for a torrid time on Wednesday, neither able to convince and calm down some voters nor to arrange more money and liquor demanded by the latter.

Right from Tuesday night, the in-charges reached the villages they were given the responsibility for, armed with a copy of the voter list and offered ₹3,000 per vote.

To their shock, they were chastised by the villagers who demanded "full payment" as promised by the candidates or by top leaders of the political parties.

Residents of Koratikal in Munugode mandal reminded the in-charge that the candidate of a particular party had promised to one tola gold per household that has five voters, but the in-charge was offering only ₹3,000 per voter.

Knowing well that this was the last chance they had to force the parties to pay up, the villagers did not hold back when expressing their anger on the party agent and warned him that if they did not get the promised gold, their vote would go to the rival candidate. P Narsamma of Bangarigadda, Chandur Mandal asked an agent, "Will you see our face after we cast our vote?"

The flustered agent tried to convince them that there was still time, but the villagers were in no mood to listen. His defence that teams of policemen were roaming in the villages and getting cash through was impossible failed to convince the villagers.

Ch Radamma, a resident of the village, said that they were promised a tola gold for five votes in a house. "Now, if they send ₹3,000, how will we get the gold? Our men are now addicted to liquor. Who will feed us now?" she asked. Voters in some villages said that while a party promised ₹5,000 per voter, they were now giving ₹3,000 each.
