Supporters, dalit groups back Satish Jarkiholi

Protestors warn against targeting their leader

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Belagavi

AMIDST the ongoing BJP's campaign against KPCC Working President Satish Jarkiholi's controversial statement on the word Hindu and attempts being made to weaken his hold on Belagavi politics, thousands of his supporters in association with various dalit organisations held a massive rally in Belagavi to express their support and solidarity to him on Monday.

The traffic in many busy junctions came to a grinding halt for several hours in Belagavi city as the protesters took out a rally from Chenamma Circle to submit a memorandum to the DC office against, what they alleged, the attempts being made to tarnish the image of Jarkiholi.

At the C.PEd ground, the protesters earlier shouted slogans against several BJP leaders including Shashikala Jolle, Abhay Patil, Sanjay Patil and Iranna Kadadi for targeting their leader for their political motives. They also destroyed the effigies of the BJP leaders in protest and warned them against targeting their leader.

Addressing protesters, a noted leader Ravindra Nayak recalled the works taken up by Jarkiholi for the betterment of backward and poor masses across the state and said, the elements which were unable to accept his contributions and works were trying to defame him. The ongoing efforts to suppress dalit communities and their voices would not be tolerated, he said, adding that the movement of pro-backward class organisations and people would continue against the injustice meted out to them more firmly in the days to come.

A leader of Valmiki community, Rajashekhar Talwar said the 'fake' Hindus were questioning the real Hindus today. He hit out at the BJP leaders for trying to gain political mileage by raising the issue of Hindus and said "We are the real Hindus and nobody have the right to question them of their rights."

The protesters displayed placards in support of Jarkiholi during the procession and appealed to the government to stop the ongoing campaign against their leader.

Indigo kick-starts direct flight service from Hubballi to Delhi

PRAMODKUMAR VAIDYA @ Hubballi

FINALLY, Hubballi got direct flight connectivity to Delhi. The Indigo Airline started the daily service to the national capital after Union Minister Pralhad Joshi continuously pursued with the company's management and authorities in the Ministry of Civil Aviation and Airport Authority of India.

As flight operations in the country have returned to normal after it had come to a standstill during the Covid-19 pandemic-induced lockdown and flying restrictions, efforts were on from all sections to persuade flight operators for a direct flight to Delhi. Minister Joshi was regularly in touch with officials of the Ministry of Civil Aviation, the Airport Authority of India, and top management of the flight operators.

On Monday, Union Minister for Civil Aviation Jyotiraditya Scindia and Union Minister Pralhad Joshi flagged off the maiden Delhi-Hubballi flight virtually from New Delhi and Hubballi respectively. As the Airbus flight carrying 179 passengers landed at Hubballi Airport, it was welcomed with a water canon salute.

As per the schedule, Flight No 6E 5624 leaves Delhi at 10 am and reaches Hubballi at 12.45 pm. Later, Flight No 6E 5625 takes off from Hubballi at 1.15 pm and lands in Delhi at 3.45. The Indigo has deployed a 186-seater Airbus A320 to operate on this sector on a daily basis.

The commencement of this service will not only help the people of Hubballi-Dharwad but also facilitate all those from North and Central Karnataka region to fly to Delhi and come back. The travel time will be considerably reduced. In fact, Star Air already has a service to Hindon (Uttar Pradesh), which is near the NCR region and located around 35-40 kilometres from Delhi Airport. However, it is a cumbersome exercise to travel to this airport from Delhi, par-

ANNOUNCEMENT IN KANNADA

Another speciality of this service was the announcement by flight pilot Akshay Patil from Bailhongal of Belagavi district, who welcomed the passengers in Kannada, using North Karnataka dialect. This move of the airlines was applauded by Joshi and co-passengers and the video of the announcement even went viral on social media. The same kind of service is being demanded in other flights too.

As the Airbus took off from Hubballi carrying 151 passengers, Union Minister Pralhad Joshi was one among them. After touchdown at Indira Gandhi International Airport, Delhi, Joshi tweeted: "Touchdown Delhi. The first-ever direct flight from Hubballi to Delhi lands at the @DelhiAirport. What a memorable journey it was! I am happy that the service has begun."

Farmers apprehensive as jumbos approach farms

ENS @ Karwar

WITH the crop ready for harvesting, jumbo raids have begun in Mundgod where three jumbos were stationed at Yerebail in Mundgod taluk and have been driven out at the local level. The forest department has said that it will have elephant proof trench and solar fencing shortly in this region.

Mundgod has almost become a hub for sugar cultivation, with most farmers shifting from paddy to sugarcane. The area of sugarcane cultivation increasing every year has also given way to marauding jumbos. In the year 2021, pachyderms destroyed several agricultural and horticulture crops, while the farmers were left to fend for themselves.

With the standing crop ready for harvesting, the elephant raids have begun. "This is just an initial stage, where the elephants were sighted in fields at Yerebail village. Last year, there were several raids on crops. We managed to chase them away this time, but they will be back soon," said Ganapathi, a villager.

Pig menace escalates as they invade farmlands

MALLIKARJUN HIREMATH @ Dharwad

WITH the Hubballi-Dharwad Municipal Corporation (HDMC) stopping its drive against pigs, residents living in extension areas and city outskirts are facing a lot of problems from these animals. The number of pigs has increased and they are even invading farmlands and troubling the farmers.

At Mansur, Mangundi, Navalur and other rural parts surrounding the city, the standing crops and the harvested crops are being targeted by these animals. Farmers have raised their voice but the negligent pig owners are not responding. The farmers who are facing losses due to natural calamities and other issues are now waiting for help from the authorities concerned.

A farmer at Mansur village said he was about to harvest the wheat but the pigs have destroyed it and they are under confusion as to who they have to meet to get rid of the problem. The pig owners are not bothered, while the panchayat members are not concerned. Earlier, they thought that some wild animals were destroying the crop but when they spotted pigs, they were worried. The wild animals stray into farms only when there is scarcity of food in the forest but the pigs will cause damage around the year, they said.

"We are not bothered about the crop they eat, but they destroy more than they eat and farmers know that the farmland where pigs are present cannot be sold," he added.

Joida is the newest bird-watching destination in state

Hubballi: With improved sightings of endemic bird fauna of Western Ghats, Joida taluk is now becoming the most sought-after birding destination in the State. Bird photographers and enthusiasts from Maharashtra, Kerala, Goa and Andhra Pradesh are thronging to Joida taluk to get a glimpse of rich avifauna that is abundant here. With several ficus and other wild trees bearing fruits, hornbills can be seen flying around these trees, attracting several photographers. Many birding groups from Pune and Hyderabad have been camping in Joida taluk regularly. The bird experts give credit to the forest department that has been planting fruit-bearing trees for several years and also the local wildlife activists who have been creating awareness among local villagers against causing harm to birds, especially large hornbills. Vikram Sogi, a homestay owner felt that it is important for homestays to encourage their guests to learn about birdwatching.
